VOLUME CVI.---NO 111. ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 11, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

$1000 REWARD

Is offered as a guarantee that neither

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

NOR

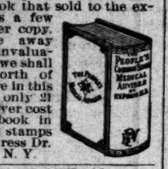
contains alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. Any one publishing false statements concerning their ingredients will be prosecuted. Doctor Pierce's Family Remedies are compounds of medicinal principles, scientifically extracted from native roots that cure the diseases for which they are recommended. They are medicines which have enjoyed the public confidence for over a third of a century. They are medicines not beverages, made to satisfy a craving for "booze."

"Golden Medical Discovery" regulates and invigorates stomach, liver and bowels, and cures dyspepsia, purifies the blood and tones up the system generally.

"Favorite Prescription" cures female weakness, irregularities, exhausting drains, painful periods and kindred ailments peculiar to women. Accept no substitute for these medicines, each of which has a record of marvelous cures. Substitution means selfishness on the part of the dealer who is looking for the greater profit on an inferior article.

"Our daughter who was attending college became very nervous and we were advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. M. C. Fox, of 57 E. Leonard St., Grand Rapids, Mich. "We did so and then you advised us to get the 'Golden Medical Discovery' also. She took four bottles of the 'Prescription' and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and you never saw such a change in a person. She said she did not feel like the same person. She was about seventeen years old at the time. I will gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to every one. I advise parents who have young daughters who suffer from nervous troubles to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at once. I am sure it will help them."

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.



THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

STRONG Again

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it.

Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer — weaken, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.

Digests What You Eat

Dollar bottle holds 2½ times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

GIRL'S HEROISM.

But for hercism and cool judgment displayed by 16 years-old Annie Korbel, under circumstances that would have unnerved many older and stronger than she, the fire which at an early hour yesterday morning destroyed the home of her father, Joseph Korbel, in Philadelphia, would have snuffed out the lives of several members of her family. While the lower part of the two-story and attic frame home of the Korbels was a roaring mass of flames, and while dense smoke filled the rooms in which Korbel and his wife and four young children slept, unconscious of their danger, Annie Kobel, at the peril of her life, ran from room to room arousing parents, sisters and brothers, and then, unaided, got the young members of the family to places of safety.

Annie, who was sleeping in an attic room, was awakened at 4:30 a. m. by suffocating smoke which filled her room. Clad only in her night robe the girl left her room and went to the second floor. Upon looking down the staircase she saw that the first floor apartments were in flames. The fire, which had started in the kitchen, had spread to the front room, and was eating its way to the stairs, the only egress from the upper floors.

The girl's first act was to awaken her father. Korbel, not knowing the extent of the blaze, ran downstairs instead of making provision to get his wife and children out of the burning house. In his haste he fell and fractured both wrists, rendering him helpless as a rescuer.

When Mrs. Korbel was aroused by Annie she became terror-stricken and hysterical. Annie alone remained cool. Taking a four months-old infant from the bed her mother had left, she hastily wrapped it in a sheet to protect it from the smoke which was becoming denser each second, and carried the child through a window to a rear shed.

Attaching the end of another sheet to the child, Annie left it on the roof of the shed and escaped to the ground. Upon her orders one of the other children who had followed the heroine to the shed lowered the babe into the arms of Annie, who carried it to the alley.

Returning to the yard, Annie commanded the three children to jump from the shed. One after the other they made the leap. Each was caught by Annie and sent into the homes of neighbors.

While the work of rescue was going on Mrs. Korbel, almost frantic from terror, was running wildly about the burning house. Annie and her father, in spite of his injuries, burst in a door and passed through the flames to reach Mrs Korbel, who was dragged from the burning dwelling to a place of safety. Just as Mrs. Korbel was led from the house the firemen arrived in response to an alarm sent in. The flames were not extinguished until the fire had destroyed everything but the outside shell of the house.

Friction Over Tripoli.

For two weeks public opinion in Rome has been exercised over the report (denied by the government) that the Sultan of Turkey had granted a concession for the construction of a port at Tripoli to a French company, with rights of exploitation for 92 years, which caused apprehension among the public that France would end by taking Tripoli as she took Tunis. The result was that several interpellations of the government on the subject were presented in the Italian Senate yesterday, and Foreign Minister Tittoni made an important statement saying that compulsory reserve prevented him from touching on each agreement concluded, but he could assure the Senate that all the powers interested in the Mediterranean recognized explicity the paramount rights of Italy over Tripoli. But, he added, Italy will not occupy Tripoli except in the event of the circumstances rendering such action absolutely necessary—namely, if the equilibrium in the Mediterranean is disturbed to her detriment.

Italy, continued the Foreign Minister, recently asked for an explanation of Turkey in regard to the report that a concession of the port of Tripoli had been granted to a French company, adding that if the statement was true Italy would be compelled to adopt energetic measures. The Sultan answered in his own name that the report was not true; that no concession had been granted or asked for, and that the Sultan does not intend to build a port there, and that even if he wished to do so he would never grant the priviiege to foreigners, but would do the work himself.

Serious Stomach Trouble.

I was troubled with a distress in my stomach, sour stomach and vomiting spells, and can truthfully say that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me.—MRS. T. V. WILLIAMS, Laingsburg, Mich. Disorders in Chicago.

Representatives of labor abandoned their plan of petitioning President Roosevelt while in Chicago yesterday to use his good offices in bringing about a settlement of the strike and attempts were made to keep down disorders while the President was in the city, but in spite of the strike leaders, some encounters and shooting occurred, and several people were more or less injured A disturbance on State street required the services of fifty policeman. The shooting and shouts of the combatants drew a great crowd about the place and stopped traffic in the street.

Eight hundred pupils of the Hendricks Public School, at Forty-third street and Princeton avenue, went on strike because a colored teamster for the Peobody Coal Company delivered a load or coal at the building. Many teamsters stopped near the school and prompted the pupils in their "strike." Police sent to the school are alleged to have used clubs on more than one pupil. The crowd quickly scattered.

Hoopskirts Redivivus

Hoopskirts again have made their appearance in Chicago. The latest coming out of the antebellum article was at the weekly meeting of the Chicago Dressmakers' Club at the Stratford Hotel.

Mme. M. J. Hosac, president of the club, had a special design of hoopskirt, which she demonstrated on the form of Miss Anna Schubert, a model. "I will show that this hoopskirt is not the old Johnnie-comes-marching-home sort, but, of course, we can't say how far it will develop," said Mme. Hosac, as she led Miss Anna to a chair and seated her with comfort, her skirts still on the floor in front. "The old sort, you know, used to fly up in front, but that was before dressmaking got to the fine art as it is today. Now we can make hoopskirts supply the full effect around the hips and still leave it possible for the wearer to climb on street cars, get in and out of her carriage and do any other thing that it would be possible to do with the other sort of skirts."

The dressmakres say the hoopskirt is going to be all the rage in Chicago in a short time.

Man's Reasonableness

is often as great as women's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble, "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick she could hardly leave her bed, and five [5] physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters she was perfectly cured and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, price 50c.

New York Tribune Farmer

The Tribune Farmer has no superior anywhere as a publication for farmers and their families. Everything worth knowing about the theory or practice of farming is treated by men recognized as experts in their various lines. It keeps the farmer in touch with all the latest improvement by text and pictures, and pays special attention to the work being done at agricultural colleges all over the country. Besides all this it has features to interest the women folk. The price is $1 a year. For a free sample copy send a postal card to the New-York Tribune, New-York.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 11, 1905.

FOLLOWING so close upon the President's speech at Denver, declaring that there must be legislation authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine freight rates, Secretary Taft's speech in Washington Tuesday night at the International Railroad Congress banquet has been accepted as indicating the fixed determination of the administration to press for rate legislation, regardless of railroad protests. The utterances of the Secretary of War have been the absorbing subject of discussion among railroad men now in Washington since he made his speech, and what is spoken of as a fight to the finish between the railroads and the administration is now predicted. When the railroad congress began its sessions Secretary Morton, whose sympathies appear to be all with the railroads, made an address calculated to relieve the assembled railroad officers of any alarm they might feel with regard to the President's railroad policy. Among the railroad men it was at once agreed that the President's convictions probably accorded with those of his Secretary of the Navy, and there was much rejoicing in consequence. President Roosevelt's speech at Denver, which was not at all like Mr. Morton's speech at the opening of the congress, renewed the feeling of doubt and alarm among the railroad magnates. Secretary Taft's speech Tuesday night was driven directly into the ears of the men who are most determined that there shall be no railroad legislation by the coming Congress. The speech, it was evident to all, had been carefully prepared, and prepared with the intention of causing exactly the impression that was caused.

TODAY'S dispatches tell of two terrible disasters in which between five and six hundred human beings lost their lives. The greater calamity of the two resulted from one of the elements—the dreaded tornado—by which five hundred men, women and children were crushed to death in Oklahoma by falling walls and crushed roofs while they were asleep. The other, near Harrisburg, Pa., was due to an explosion caused by a passenger train colliding with freight cars loaded with dynamite. This, also, occurred in the night while passengers were in their berths in the sleeping cars unmindful of the terrible fate that awaited them. We live in a day when wholesale horrors are common, and when wars and rumors of wars occupy much space in the newspapers. The twentieth century is thought by some to be the golden era in mundane history. It may be in human progress, as no one can controvert the fact that the world has in comparatively recent years undergone a remarkable transition, but with all the discoveries and rapid strides in science there is as much human woe confronting the race as ever.

ADDITIONAL intelligence from Jitimor, Russia, shows that one hundred and twenty Jews lost their lives in the recent anti-semitic outbreak in that place. Rioting is still in progress and more serious results are feared. Jew-baiting has raged for many years. There are always sporadic cases, but occasionally it rages in an epidemic form in certain places. Why the descendants of Abraham should be targets for people who profess to be Christians is hard to understand. If the Semites in other countries are as well-behaved as those in the United States and of the same type of good citizens, there is certainly no reason for such chronic persecution. "The times of the Gentiles" have it seems not as yet run their course. The race has seen Egypt and the Pharaohs come to naught. Nebuchadnezzar and the Babylonish empire vanish, together with the Medo-Persian, the Greek and the Roman, all of whom played their parts as persecutors. The Russians could profit by their example.

COUNT CASSINI, Ambassador of the Czar and dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington, has been transferred to the relatively unimportant post of Russian Ambassador to Madrid, it is believed, as a mark of his nation's displeasure at his failure to perform the impossible task of keeping American sympathy with Russia instead of allowing it to swing to Japan in the present war in the East. Empires, as well as republics, are ungrateful.

DR. W. C. MCCRANN, of Omaha, who announced the cure of tetanus by placing the patient in cold storage rooms so as to cause the blood vessels around the brain to contract, now claims that the same treatment will reduce the inflammation of the membrane of the brain in cerobro-spinal meningitis and effect a cure. The freezing out process so successfully used by financiers now seems to be growing in favor with the doctors.

Policeman Charles F. Finn was shot and dangerously wounded in the abdomen early this morning, in Reading, Pa., by three burglars whom he was chasing. It is believed he cannot recover.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

The Secretary of the Treasury today received a letter from a man at Alvarado, Tex., who claimed to be the "penitent sinner" who sent $12,000 to the conscience fund last spring. He says he would like to recover $2,000 of the amount because he sent more than was really due the government. The writer of the letter, who, from the chirography, is not the same as the sender of the $12,000, after explaining that he had traveled southwest and had been taken care of by a "kind lady" in the illness which overtook him, says. "Send this poor lady a little of that money if you please. She is trying to school two little girls, and her name is Addie Adams. When you get this I will be at rest." It is hardly possible that Addie will get any of the money.

A long distance telephone message from Senator Knox states that his daughter and son-in law, Mr. and Mrs. Tindell, who were in the Harrisburg wreck, were not seriously injured. Mrs. Tindell was cut and bruised about the face, legs and body and Mr. Tindell cut about the face. Both were taken to the residence of Gov. Pennypacker where their wounds were treated.

British and German electrical engineers are much interested in a high speed telegraph printing system invented by Donald Murray. According to a report which has reached the State Department from U. S. Consul Liefeld, at Frieberg, Germany, the apparatus operates a linotype machine at the receiving station. Mr. Liefeld writes that the Murray machine was given its first public test at the Royal Institution, at London, and worked admirably. "When a message arrives at the receiving station," says Mr. Liefeld, describing the apparatus, "it is represented by a number of holes punched in the tape which operate special keys on the typewriter, pulling the carriage back if necessary, and by working it as if by human hands. In the same way a linotype machine is worked. A press message is sent off in the usual way and by means of the Murray apparatus it is immediately set up in type at the other end."

The discussion of block signals by section 3 of the International Railway Congress has offered some of the most interesting data of the convention now in session here. The ratio between human error and the failure of apparatus, was, according to the study of the delegates, the gist of the problem, and it was decided that where traffic increases the average of failure of apparatus decreases, whereas the average of human error increases. The delegates this afternoon visited the Patent Office, National Museum and other points of scenic interest in the city. An effort will be made to have President Roosevelt visit the American Railway Appliance exhibit tomorrow morning.

Governor Cummins, of Iowa, appeared before the State committee on interstate commerce this morning as one of the champions in the agitation to confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix railroad rates.

Foreign delegates to the International Railway Congress showed deep interest in the Harrisburg railroad catastrophe, and expressed the deepest regret at its occurrence. "We have had no explosion such as this seems to have been on our railways," said a prominent English delegate, and in fact none of our accidents have been due to cars of one train being thrown across another track alongside.

Hobart, O. T., May 11.—The cyclone which wrought death and destruction in this city last night, came from the southwest, and at nine o'clock dipped and struck the town of Snyder, with terrific force, levelling buildings and burying victims beneath the ruins. At least sixty people are dead and sixty more injured. The dead are badly mangled and many of the injured are so seriously hurt that they will die. The heads of some of the dead were crushed off, others lost arms and legs and timber was blown through the bodies of some. Only eight buildings are left standing. The property loss will be about $300,000. The storm was not confined to Snyder. On the way to the stricken town the dead and injured were passed in plain sight of the relief trains.

Some joker has been industriously circulating from one end of the country to the other a story to the effect that the War Department intended to make a present to every union veteran of the civil war an overcoat lined with buffalo fur. Several thousand applications have already been received, most of them containing clippings of the story, and each incoming mail adds to the pile. Of course there is nothing in the story except trouble for the clerks in the office of the chief clerk of the department.

Commissioner of Corporations James R. Garfield returned to his desk today after an absence of five weeks in the oil fields of Kansas, Colorado, Texas and California, where he was engaged in an investigation of the oil situation. He is not ready to go into details of his investigations.

The first meeting of the American members of the international deep waterways commission was held this morning in the offices of Gen. O. H. Ernst, the chairman. Afterwards they called upon Secretary of War Taft and with his approval it was decidad to invite the Canadian members to meet in joint conference in this city on May 25th for the purpose of determining upon the scope of their work and decide where to make their headquarters for future meetings.

With 500 delegates housed in 130 tents near the new Washington Training School in the suburbs of this city, the thirty-sixth session of the General Congress of the Seventh Day Adventists opened today. The delegates, most of whom have brought with them their families, represent most of the United States and nearly every foreign country. There are delegates from Europe, India, China, Africa and the islands of the sea. The session will last three week. The delegates will live in tents and the meetings will be held under a big canvas canopy, with a seating capacity of 1,500. Elder A. G. Daniells, president of the congress, made the opening address this morning. It was very long and covered the whole field of the adventists' work. He laid special stress on the educational and medical missionary work.

Captain Assassinated.

Nijni Novgorod, Russia, May 11.—Captain Gronzour, commander of a cavalry patrol, was assassinated last evening in the street, while making an official visit to the home of a citizen. A man fired several shots at the officer from the street inflicting fatal wounds. The assassin was arrested.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT

An express train of the Pennsylvania Railroad ran into a freight train in which there were two cars loaded with dynamite, at 1:10 o'clock this morning in South Harrisburg, Pa., near the plant of the Paxang Light, Heat and Power Company.

Three terrific explosions that broke windows all over the city followed, and the two trains were completely wrecked and took fire. It is estimated that fifty persons were killed and 100 injured.

It is impossible to ascertain the exact number of fatalities, because the wreckage, in which many of the passengers and some members of the train crew are pinned, is still ablaze and unapprochable, and many small explosions occur continually.

When the first explosions occurred bodies were thrown clear out of the berths in the sleeping-cars, many landing down the railroad embankment and some even having been hurled into the Susquehanna river, which parallels the railroad in that locality.

All the physicians of the city procurable were summoned to attend the injured.

A fire alarm sounded and the firemen arrived, to find themselves practically helpless in the work of rescue. A police patrol wagon was commissioned as an ambulance, and as many of the injured as possible were loaded into into it on each trip and taken to the Harrisburg Hospital, the capacity of which soon became taxed, because of the large number that were brought in.

A special train was made up and brought injured and dying to the Union station. Many of the injured were taken into private houses.

Immediately after the wreck all the passengers who could do so ran from the scenes of horror to safely from the incessant small explosions.

The agonizing cries of the unfortunates were heartrending. The office of the Paxtang Light, Heat, and Power Company looked like a hospital. At an early hour the Harrisburg Traction Company ran out a number of cars from its South Harrisburg barns and used them to bring the injured to the hospital.

With practically no clothing, many women and children from the train were compelled to wander about the fields, as there are few houses in the immediate vicinity of the wreck.

The train was the second section of No. 19. There were 169 passengers in the train, and the latest estimate is that fifty were killed.

The wreck was caused by a smaller wreck to the freight train, which was east bound. Passing the plant of the Paxtang Electric Company, near Cedar street, an air hose burst and several cars in the middle of the train buckled up and fell across the passenger tracks at the side.

Almost at the same moment the express train, with ten coaches, dashed along and plunged into the wrecked freight cars. The boiler of the passenger locomotive blew up, and the concussion caused the immediate explosion of the two cars of dynamite in the freight train. The force of the collision crushed all of the passenger cars, which piled up in a huge mass with those of the freight.

Pathos indescribable characterized the scenes about the wreck. Husbands separated from wives and little children bereft of their parents sought their friends among the dead and dying.

Sometimes they succeeded in finding their loved ones among the slightly injured, or even among those unscathed, but many were found among the bodies in the temporary morgue at the Paxtang plant. In many instances they failed to find them at all, either because the bodies were still buried in the smoking debris or were so badly burned as to be unrecognizable.

At 4:45 o'clock this morning it was authoritatively ascertained that the entire passenger train of nine cars and the engine were destroyed. Nine freight cars were also destroyed and three others derailed and wrecked.

The passenger train, of which not a valuable square foot was left, had consisted of one locomotive, torn to pieces when the explosion occurred, six Pullman sleeping coaches, two baggage cars, one mail coach, and one engine tender.

The first explosion heard was that of the boiler of the passenger locomotive. This was followed by a most terrific noise when the dynamite car went up. The car was No. 71,383 of the Erie Railroad, and had a cargo of 5,000 pounds of dynamite.

Despite the harrowing occurrence there were early on the scene, undetected, many negroes and foreigners, searching for loot. The heat was was intense and the crowd of reputable people so great that it is believed the thieves secured but little of value

Practically all of the glass exposed in windows in South Harrisburg and Steelton was broken by the force of the explosion. Most of the downtown sidewalks were literally covered with broken glass. Glass windows on Market street, one mile from the scene of the disaster, were broken.

KILLED BY TORNADO.

Reports over railroad wires to Fort Worth, Texas, say dispatches from Snyder, Okla., to the train dispatcher of the Frisco at Sapulpa, I. T., reports that a tornado struck Snyder last night, wrecking the town and killing 500 people, and relief is asked for.

A destructive windstorm passed down the main street of Lawrence, Kansas, last night, doing considerable damage to buildings. Everett Hall was unroofed and a large number of plate glass windows were broken by hail and wind. So far as known nobody was seriously hurt. The electric light plant was put out of business.

AGAINST MOB LAW.

A committee representing the labor unions of Chicago called upon President Roosevelt and protested against the proposition to send federal troops to that city. In reply the President in part said:

"I have read the petition you have presented to me, the conclusion of which is a request for a hearing before any action be taken by the President relating to the Chicago strike situation. As yet no suggestion of any kind has come to me from any source that I should take any action. Of the merits of the case I am wholly ignorant. I have no knowledge of what the situation is or of what steps should properly be taken to end it. I feel, however, that in view of one statement or series of statements, in your letter I ought to say this:

"I regret that you should in the letter have spoken at all of the use of a federal army as you have there spoken. No request has been made to me for action by the federal government, but at the same time Mr. Shea, as you have in this communication to me brought up that fact I want to say one thing with all the emphasis in my power. In upholding law and order, in doing what he is able to do to suppress mob violence in any shape or way, the Mayor of Chicago, Mayor Dunne, has my hearty support. I am glad to be able to say this to you, gentlemen, before I say it to any other body. Now let me repeat that I know nothing of the facts of the situation. I know nothing of the rights or wrongs of the points at issue. What I have to say is based purely upon what I regard as the unfortunate phrasing of a letter presented to the President of the United States. I have not been called upon to interfere in any way, but you must not misunderstand my attitude. In every effort of Mayor Dunne to prevent violence by mobs or individuals, to see that the laws are obeyed and that order is preserved, he has the hearty support of the President of the United States, and, in my judgment, he should have that of every good citizen of the United States. Now, gentlemen, it has been a great pleasure to see you, and I am glad to have had the chance to say this to you. * * * I am a believer in unions. I am an honorary member of one union. But the union must obey the law just as the corporation must obey the law, just as every man, rich or poor, must obey the law. As yet no action has been called for by me, and most certainly if action is called for by me I shall try to do exact justice under the law to every man, so far as I have power. But the first essential is the preservation of law and order, the suppression of violence by mobs or individuals."

THE PRESIDENT.

President Roosevelt arrived in Chicago from the West yesterday, took luncheon with the Merchants' Club, attended receptions by the Hamilton and Howard Clubs and at night was the guest of honor of the Iroquois Club, Chicago's big democratic club.

At the luncheon at the Merchants' Club Mr. Roosevelt made an address in which he uttered only a few words which could be construed as referring to the teamsters' strike. The upbuilding of a great navy was his main subject, saying, "we cannot abandon our position on the Monroe doctrine."

At a brilliant banquet by the Iroquois Club, the leading democratic organization in Chicago, Mr. Roosevelt was the central figure. He was deeply touched by the many kindly references to himself. Political differences, he said, are not personal issues. Speeches were made by Mayor Dunne, James Hamilton Lewis and President Gunther. Surrounded by men who have fought against him in two national political campaigns, who deprecate many of his avowed policies, and who have frowned on some of his political actions, the President was cheered to the echo as he entered and left the banquet hall, was applauded with enthusiasm throughout his address, and at its close he was given to understand that in his case political differences were not a personal issue.

Odd Fellows.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, which had been in session in Lynchburg for the past two days, adjourned at a late hour last night to meet in Richmond. The following officers were elected:

Grand master, Norman Ashby, of Culpeper; deputy grand master, Roland E. Chase, Clintwood; grand warden, Col. C. C. Vaughan, Franklin; grand secretary, T. Wiley Davis, Richmond; grand treasurer, J. W. Ferguson, Richmond; grand chaplain, Rev. J. J. Sherer, Marion; representative to Sovereign Grand Lodge, which meets in Philadelphia in September, Frank Cassell, of Radford; trustees for the Orphans Home, W. D. Hill, J. P. Haddock and P. M. Bradshaw.

The reports from the various comcomittees last night showed the order to be in a flourishing condition. The net increased in membership during the past year has been slightly over three thousand, making the number of members in the State something over 20,000. The proposition to establish an old folks' home was discussed and laid on the table until next year.

The Rebekah Assembly, which completed its labors in the afternoon, elected the following officers for the ensuing year. President, Miss Anna Kraus, of Lexington; vice president, Mrs. Celia Case, of Richmond; warden, Mrs. M. E. Whitmore, of Lynchburg; secretary, Mrs. S. Edmonia Dull, of Staunton; treasurer, Mrs. Edmonia Perkins, of Richmond; chaplain, Mrs. Nina Courts, of Clifton Forge; marshal, Mrs. G. Kennedy, of Staunton; conductor, Mrs. R. Greaver, of Charlottesville; inner guard, Miss Annie I. Long, of Irvington; outer guard, Mrs. Lizzie H. Whitaker, of Abingdon.

Struck by Lightning.

During a heavy thunderstorm in Montgomery county yesterday evening William Linkous was struck by lightning and instantly killed while drawing oil from a tank in the general merchandise store of his father, four miles west of Christiansburg. Two of young Linkous's sisters, who were in the building, were knocked senseless and suffered so much from the shock that there is no hope for their recovery.

The bolt set fire to the oil and the flames quickly spread over the store, destroying it and wiping out the fortune of C. P. Linkous, father of the three victims. A remarkable coincidence is that James Linkous, a cousin of the victims, was struck by lightning and killed one year ago within a few feet from the spot of yesterday evening's occurrence.

Today's Telegraphic News

Railroad Horror.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 11.—The bursting of an air hose on a freight train caused the loss of about twenty lives, the injury of a hundred people on a passenger train, the destruction by fire of the passenger train, and the burning of part of the freight train early this morning on the Pennsylvania railroad in South Harrisburg.

The second section of Cleveland and Cincinnati express, westbound, plunged into the wrecked freight train exploding two cars of dynamite and strewing the ground with the dead and mangled bodies of nearly all of the 169 passengers and the members of the crews of the two trains. The explosion destroyed windows all over the city, and set fire to both trains.

As the freight train, bound east, was passing the Cedar street crossing an air hose burst, and several cars in the middle of the train buckled and fell across the passenger track. At the same moment the passenger train of the ten coaches dashed into the derailed freight cars. This exploded a car of dynamite in the freight train and the passenger cars were mixed up in the resulting wreck of the freight. Almost instantly the two trains were on fire.

The inmates of the passenger train were either killed outright as they slept, or were thrown through the windows.

The scenes following the crash and the explosions were of the most horrible nature. Women were screaming, children were crying, and strong men were wandering about dazed and helpless. The tracks were strewn in all directions with half naked men and women some of whom were dead and others seriously injured.

Several of the passengers who escaped serious injury give thrilling descriptions of their experience and the horrible sights they witnessed. Some of the unfortunates were pinned in by the seats or wreckage and burned to death before the eyes of those who were powerless to render assistance. In some cases heroic but unsuccessful attempts were made to pull injured persons through windows.

Eighteen bodies have been rescued, only five of which could be identified.

It is believed the list of dead will reach twenty-five.

Six bodies, the arms and legs burned off, are beyond recognition. One body, that of a man, with arms and one leg burned off, and face burned to a crisp, and beyond recognition, bore evidence of being that of a man well to do, as the trouser leg that still remained was of the finest material. A man, who evidently was in a sleeper, as he wore pajamas, and whose clothes were placed with the charred body, was found to be a Mason, as he wore the Masonic emblem, the number of his lodge being 274.

Henry Silverman, who is a New York jewelry salesman, hid in his berth a satchel which contained jewelry worth $17,000. He could not find the satchel when the wreck occurred, and was forced to leave it and the costly jewelry to be destroyed by the flames.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 11.—The force of the explosion which wrecked the two trains and cost a score of lives this morning, was so great that it upset a lamp in the residence of T. H. Martin, No. 10 South Sixteenth street two miles away from the wreck. The house caught fire and it and two adjoining houses were destroyed.

The Oklahoma Disaster.

Oklahoma City, O. T. May 11.—Five hundred persons are reported to have been killed or injured in a tornado that struck Snyder, a town 40 miles west of this city, at 11 o'clock last night. All telegraph and telephone connection with the wrecked town is gone, and only meagre information was obtainable early this morning. It is said that practically every house in the town, the population of which is about 1,200, has been wrecked. All the reports refer to killed and injured, and it is not known the exact number of dead.

The telegraph operator for the Western Union in Hobart says that many have been killed. He says that of the entire casuality list more than 100 are dead. The details of the havoc cannot be learned until after the relief trains have reached the wrecked town and made a report. A heavy wind storm has been blowing in the western part of Oklahoma all day and in many places hail and rain have fallen. It is said that a heavy hail storm accompanied the tornado. Several minor storms have been reported and in some places the damage has been severe.

Oklahoma City, O. T., May 11.—A report has just reached here to the effect that every house in Snyder, with the exception of Way's hardware store and the Frisco round house were destroyed. It is estimated that fully 250 people have been killed and 500 injured.

One Hundred and Twenty Killed.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—A private telegram received here today estimates the number of Jews killed and injured in the riots at Jitimor at 120. Martial law has been declared in the town. Notwithstanding this, the rioting goes on, but on a smaller scale than when the outbreak first started. Reports from the District of Kovno and Smolensk say that the fighting continues in the Jewish quarters. It is feared the disorders will spread to other districts.

Japanese Press Bitter.

Tokio, May 11.—The press is still bitter on the subject of the violation of neutrality in Indo-China. In discussing the matter the Jiji says: "Patience has reached the breaking point. Should France hesitate to act promptly, thereby affording the Russians further facilities for menacing our safety, we will have no choice left but to ask our alley (Great Britain) to fulfill its part of the alliance.

Gunboat Launched.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—The gunboat Swinitz was launched today at the New Admiralty works in the presence of the Grand Duke Alexis, high admiral of the Russian fleet. At the same time that the ceremonies in connection with the launching of the Swinitz were in progress, the first keel plates of the gunboat Glutak and of a new battleship were laid.

Son Lost Mother.

"Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes E. B. Reid, of Harmony, Me. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a Cough or Cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Reid, but he learned that lung trouble must not be neglected and how to cure it. Quickest relief and cure for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

Situation in Chicago.

Chicago, May 11.—Federal interference in the teamsters strike became more sharply a point of discussion today by reason of the injection of the petition to the President yesterday by the labor leaders into the situation. As a stroke of diplomacy, it has been given out by President Shea, of the teamsters' union, that all efforts to reach the ear of the President had been abandoned. Meanwhile arrangements were made to meet the President at the Auditorium on his return from the Hamilton Club reception. The labor leaders assert they are well pleased with the manner the President received them, but nevertheless in view of what the executive had to say in reply about the observance of law and order, and his inferential remarks that Mayor Dunne would receive governmental support if necessary there is an undercurrent of opinion that perhaps the only advantage gained by a move is an accentuation in an official manner of their position in this strike.

The President's reference to the "unfortunate phrasing" of the statement is taken as a hint that President Roosevelt was not entirely pleased with the document. Having delivered their side of the story the leaders today settled down to renewed plans of activity.

The employers are jubilant, the moral influence of the President's presence and his utterances of determination in upholding the laws have given them added courage to prosecute the fight, and most unequivecal statements are made that there is to be no recession in the position taken.

One of the prominent members of the employers' association has stated that the merchants will close their stores if necessary before they will yield to the strikers. This sentiment finds echoing support by others and all indications point to a "stone wall" front on the part of capital.

Talk now is heard of involving the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, to the extent that the latter shall insist on the delivery of goods to any and all houses that contract for the same, whether "boycotted" or not. The association will meet tonight when it is expected resolutions to this effect will be adopted. If the plan carries, a more important spread of the strike than has developed since the first week of the contest may be looked for. Orders were issued by the labor committee to have printed 1,500 copies of the memorial to the President, to be sent to papers from the country and to the sixty-three central labor bodies in the various cities.

Five people have lost their lives so far in conflicts incident to the strike.

A man named Waldron, a driver of a Wells Fargo express wagon, shot and killed last night a man named Pierce, a striking teamster, who passed the express wagon last night and recognizing Waldron as a former union man, addressed him in sarcastic words. Waldron, it is claimed, drew his pistol and fired, the bullet finding lodgment above Pierce's heart. Waldron ran to the Wells Fargo barns, which were surrounded by police, and was captured. He would make no statement. Edward Wright, aged 16, was shot in the thigh by a man on an express wagon, at whom a brick was thrown. The employers this morning state that they will send out 2,200 wagons.

Oil Tank Burning.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 11.—The efforts of the people of Downs, W. Va., to extinguish the flames in the 12,000 barrel tank of the Standard Oil Company, fired accidentally this morning, have been unavailing. The tank was almost consumed, and all houses within a radius of several hundred feet have been burned. The cannon on the special train sent from Morgantown, arrived at 6 o'clock, but on account of the intense heat it was not possible to get the gun within sufficient range to penetrate the heavy iron of the tank. It was thought if the tank were punctured, the flames would die out. The fire will cost the Standard Oil Company a million dollars. It was caused, it was said, by the carelessness of an operator who dropped a match when gauging the tanks. In range of the fire are other tanks with a combined capacity of about 80,000 barrels. The pumping station is a total loss. The people are now building earthen trenches around the tank.

The Kaiser and the Yellow Peril.

Berlin, May 11.—Kaiser William today, in the course of a speech delivered to the troops, following a review at Strasburg, referred to the war in the far East and declared that as Russia had proved incapable of averting the "yellow peril," Germany might find it necessary to undertake the task. He attributed Russia's failure to defeat the Japanese to the fact that her army had been demoralized by vice and drunkenness. The emperor's words on this subject were: "The Russian army has been defeated in Manchuria, because it was demoralized by vice and drunkenness. This is the only possible explanation of the Russian collapse. Russia has proved incapable of averting the "yellow peril," and Germany may find it necessary to oppose the aggression of the yellow race forcibly. German soldiers must avoid the vices which have undermined the Russian military power."

Suicide of an Opera Singer.

New York, May 11.—While the ferry boat Newburg was crossing the North river at 1:30 o'clock this morning, bound from the foot of 42nd street for Weehawken, N. J., Wallace MacCreary, an opera singer, jumped overboard and was drowned. His body has not been recovered. A note found in the man's hat, which was left in the cabin, read: "I am tired fighting the battle of life. Mr. Hammerstein promised me a position as door keeper in Field's Theatre, but I forgive him. I go, but this is the cause of taking my life. Let my body go to the bottom."

Pardon Denied.

Trenton, N. J., May 11.—The Court of Pardons today denied a pardon to Libbie Garrabrandt, although four of the seven members present voted in favor of her release. Chancellor Magie, who voted against the woman, said the vote of five, or a majority of the entire court of eight members, was necessary to release. Heretofore prisoners have been freed on vote of 4 out of seven members. Today's vote is sustained by many. It is necessary to have five votes before a prisoner could be liberated.

Fled From Yellow Fever.

New York, May 11.—The steamer Seguranca, which arrived here today from Colon, brought about thirty employes of the Isthmian Commission who had resigned. They quit work at Colon because of the increasing number of cases of fever there. Some of them said that if they were sent out of the town into the country there would be little danger, but housed up as clerks they are constantly exposed to malarial if not yellow fever.

Vessels Sighted.

Tokio, May 11.—It is reported that two vessels of the Vladivostok squadron were sighted off Aomora, on Tuesday. Aomora is on the Bay of Aomora, which is at the northern extremity of Holido, the largest of the Japanese group. The bay opens into the strait of Tsugara which separates Hondo from Yezo, another of the Japanese group.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 11.—The trading element on the floor of the stock exchange sold at the opening and have been aggressive sellers all through the first hour of many stocks. Metropolitan Street Railway was depressed because of a statement that there had been a leak in the Supreme Court and that it was known that a decision in the franchise tax case had been written, but not yet handed down, upholding the franchise tax law. The stock declined to 114 on this selling. Metropolitan Securities dropped two points and Brooklyn Rapid Transit one per cent. Some of the traders on the floor at the same time made a drive at Steel Common, breaking the price below 30, and preferred was forced down to 97¾. A feature of the market was the absence of pressure of long stock, either on declines or advances, and trading was wholly as Wall street technically phrases it, "in contrasts."

Army of the Potomac.

The Society of the Army of the Potomac which began its thirty-sixth annual reunion at Manassas yesterday will adjourn this evening.

There was a business meeting of the society yesterday at which it was decided to meet in Washington next year, when it is expected the statue to McClellan will be dedicated.

During the exercises of the day Dr. Henry M. Clarkson, a former surgeon in the Confederate army, who previously was a soldier at Fort Moultrie and fired one of the first three guns at the federal steamer, Star of the West, read a poem.

At the campfire last night at the Courthouse, Mr. J. B. T. Thornton presiding, a number of addresses were made by distinguished officers of both armies, Federal and Confederate.

An actual count developed the fact that there were present but seven survivors of the Army of the Potomac who participated in the first battle of Manassas and but 12 survivors of the Army of Northern Virginia participating in the same battle.

Death of Capt. Philip P. Powell.

Capt. Philip Pendleton Powell, a retired United States army officer, died yesterday at Santa Barbara, Cal., after a long illness of Bright's disease, which he contracted in Cuba. Capt. Powell was 59 years old and was a son of the late Mrs. Ann R. H. Powell, of Winchester.

During the civil war he was a captain of artillery in the Confederate service. After the war he enlisted as a private in the United States army, later being advanced to captain. He commanded the Ninth Cavalry (colored) in the charge up San Juan Hill, in Cuba, and many say this regiment saved the Roosevelt Rough Riders from probable annihilation. Captain Powell is said to have been the only ex-Confederate holding a commission in the United States army prior to the Spanish-American war. He leave a widow, Mrs. Kate Powell, five sisters and one brother. Captain Powell was a born soldier and of a commanding appearance. He will be buried in California.

Handsome Station.

An event of unusual importance and interest to the public, especially the railway world, is the opening of the new Union Passenger Terminal at Atlanta, Ga., on Sunday morning, May 14.

This palatial station is the most magnificent, capacious and most modern passenger station on this continent.

The first train to enter this new station will be the Southern Railway's United States Fast Mail Train, No. 35, from Washington, New York, and the East.

This station will be used jointly by the Southern Railway, Atlanta & West Point R. R., and Central of Georgia Railway.

A reception for inspection by the general public will be held by the management of the Union Passenger Terminal Company in the new station on Saturday afternoon, 13th instant, and will be a celebration in which all of Atlanta will participate.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Best Cough Medicine for Children.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. New Steamers.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company in Washington yesterday, it was practically decided to arrange for the immediate construction of one of the most modern all-steel boats for the day service between Norfolk and Washington which is to be shortly installed by the company. The decks and hull of the new steamer will be constructed of steel. It will be actually fire-proof, and will cost $400,000. The boat will run every other day, and if the traffic warrants it, still another boat will be put on.

At a meeting of the stockholders a resolution was adopted increasing the capital stock $100,000 and authorizing an issue of $800,000 in bonds for the purpose of purchasing the rights of the Alexandria Ferry Company, and the building of new wharves and boats for use between the two cities. The contract for the building of two steel ferry boats was awarded to the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company of Wilmington, Del. The boats are to cost in round numbers $140,000 each, and the first one is to be delivered, ready for service, in five months, the other to follow as soon as possible.

The application of George Benson for a license to sell liquor at No. 114 north Fairfax street, will be heard tomorrow.

May Flies.

The advance guard of mayflies reached Alexandria a few nights ago. They have since received large reinforcements and are now fulfilling their short-lived mission. They will soon be moving in clouds over the tops of trees about dusk, and hovering around the electric lights, and store windows. On warm nights, when the wind is from the south, millions of these insects invade the city and become almost as numerous as raindrops. They spread over windows and pavements, and it is often necessary to sweep them from sidewalks in the same manner as a light snow is removed.

Black Patti Troubadours.

The Black Patti Troubadours will appear at the Opera House on Saturday, May 13. Sissieretta Jones, the Black Patti, has sung to the largest audiences that ever assembled in Madison Square Garden, New York city, and is the only colored female singer honored by royal command to sing before the former Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII. of England. Their revival of the sweet melodies of the South—reminiscent of antebellum days—the plantation, the cotton field and the levee is enjoyable.

Dropped as Deserter.

First Lieut. Alphonse Strebler, 47th Company, Coast Artillery, who disappeared from his station at Fort Hunt, below this city, three months ago, was yesterday dropped from the army register as a deserter. Lieut. Strebler was connected with the quartermaster and commissary departments and because of some deficiencies in his pay accounts was confined to his quarters at the time of his disappearance. He left when he found he was to be court-martialed.

The Double-tracking

The work of preparing the road bed for the double-tracking of the electric railway between this city and Four-mile run has been practically completed. The ties have been distributed over the road, and the work of laying the rails will soon follow. With the use of the new track traveling facilities between Alexandria and Washington will, of course, be rendered easy and rapid and all the inconveniences and delays incident to a single-track road removed.

U. D. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., was held yesterday at the residence of the president, Miss Loula Smoot. The ways and means committee reported that "The Feast of the Seven Tables," held at Lee Camp Hall on Tuesday, May 9, had been a great success, both financially and socially. After business of a routine nature had been attended to, delightful refreshments were served by the president.

Sash Fell on Neck.

Some excitement was occasioned on Henry street, near Queen this morning by the screams of a colored boy upon whose neck a window sash had fallen. The boy, it seems, had been locked up in the house, and having had his attention attracted to something in the street, raised the window with the result given above. His cries attracted a crowd, some of whom forcibly entered the house and released him.

Sent Back Home.

There was but one case before the police Court this morning, that of a colored boy, who gave his name as Herman Caton, who was taken in charge yesterday at the request of employees of the Washington-Southern Railway. The boy stated that he had been brought here on a train from Doswell, but it was since learned that he came from Washington to Alexandria. The boy was sent to his home by Justice Caton.

Continued Scarcity.

The local fishermen, whose nets and boats have proven an unprofitable investment this spring, have been indulging the hope that there will be a run of May shad to make up for the disappointments of April. So far their hopes have been vain, and some are inclined to believe that the run in May will be few and far between.

Personal.

Miss Fannie Dixon has gone to Mount Jackson, where she will spend several weeks.

Mrs. Thomas Leadbeater and her daughter, Miss Mary Leadbeater, have returned from Atlantic City.

Mrs. J. H. D. Smoot, of Alexandria, is now with her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Burch. Mrs. Smoot's health is somewhat better.—Mrs. Strother Jones is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. M. Burch.—[Clarke Courier.

Miss Ada D. Davis, of New York, and Mrs. Emma J. Spencer, of this city, are visiting their father, Mr. Haywood Davis, at Occoquan.

Mr. Richard Murphy, of this city, and Miss Nannie White, of Warrenton, were married yesterday morning in the latter place.

Man and Woman Fight.

A difficulty occurred today on Princess street, near Pitt, between James Price, alias "Crap," and Hattie Conway, both colored, during which the woman threw a brick at the man. The missile passed through the window of a bar-room when Price rushed at the Conway woman, knocked her down and kicked her on the head. Officer Beach came along and with the aid of Mr. Fred Garvey brought both to the station house.

Sturgeon.

Sturgeon has made its appearance in market. It brings 15 cents a pound. A dealer in speaking of the scarcity of this fish in late years and the consequent advance in price, said a large "cow" sturgeon would bring $90, the roe alone being valued at $1 per pound. In olden times an entire fish could be purchased for 50 cents. The roe, now so valuable, was their either thrown overboard or used as bait to catch other fish.

King Roughbeard.

King Roughbeard will be at the opera house on Thursday evening, May 18th, and would like to meet the children of Alexandria and their parents, and all those interested in the Alexandria Free Kindergarten. The sale of seats is now in progress.

News of the Day.

The schooner Flora Kirwan arrived at Baltimore yesterday with 3,000 dozen pineapples.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Supreme Council of the Catholic Knights of America is in session in St Louis.

The Omaha Bee quotes President Roosevelt as making the emphatic statement that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The board of education of the District of Columbia last night unanimously declined to adopt the suggestion of the committee of fifteen for the introduction of a course of religious and moral instruction in the public schools.

By direct order from St. Petersburg Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador to the United States, will be relieved from duty in this country in June and assigned to Madrid as the Russian Ambassador to Spain. The reason assigned for the transfer is that the Count failed to check American sentiment against Russia. As stated yesterday Baron Rosen, a prominent member of the Russian diplomatic corps and formerly the Russian Minister to Japan, will come to the United States as successor to Count Cassini.

Defying the administration warning that railway men must bow to popular in the matter of rate legislation, President Jos. Ramsey, jr., of the Wabash Railroad, threw down the gage yesterday at the hearing of the Senate committee on Interstate Commerce held in Washington. Mr. Ramsey contended that, despite the views expressed by President Roosevelt at Denver, and backed Tuesday night by Secretary of War Taft in his speech before the International Railway Congress, the railroad rates generally are reasonable, and the evils complained of amenable to existing statues.

Virginia News.

Ex-President Cleveland was in Norfolk yesterday on his way home from a fishing trip.

The Society of the Cincinnati met in Richmond yesterday. M. Jusserand was among the speakers at the banquet.

Fire yesterday morning destroyed six buildings at Newport News. Fire Chief Stow was seriously injured. The loss is $15,000

Mrs. V. F. Pullen, wife of Commissioner of Revenue J. A. Pullen, of King George county, died Sunday at her home near Gulvy after an illness of nearly one year, aged 69 years.

Thieves Tuesday night broke into the postoffice and store of Chiles & Jolliffe, at Stephenson, Frederick county, and carried off a large quantity of merchandise and watches.

The wedding of Miss Catherine Cover and Dr. Robert McC. Glass, both of Winchester, took place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Angerona, the home of the bride's parents.

The Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works has just received an order for seventy locomotives of the consolidated type. They are for the Baltimore and Ohio Railway.

A telegram has been received announcing the death of Mrs. Blanche Fauntleroy, wife of Dr. Powell Fauntleroy, surgeon in the United States army. Dr. Fauntleroy is a native of Staunton.

The various telephone companies on the eastern shores of Maryland and Virginia and Delaware will be absorbed by the Bell Telephone Company and will in future be operated as a consolidated exchange.

In the local option election held at Shenandoah, Page county, yesterday, the "dry" ticket won by a majority of four votes. The vote of Shenandoah removes the last licensed barroom from the county.

At 6 o'clock yesterday evening in Calvary Episcopal Church Front Royal, Miss Martha Charlotte, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. R. Murphy, was married to Charles A. Macatee, jr., Rev. T. Carter Page officiating.

The cadet mess hall at the Virginia Military Institute was destroyed by fire yesterday. Heroic efforts were made by cadets and the Lexington fire department to save the building, but without success, as the fire had gained considerable headway when discovered. The loss is covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. Temporary arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the 300 cadets. The building will be reconstructed.

At supper call at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Tuesday night, the whole corps of cadets refused to go to mess. After the companies had formed the command "Fall out" was given and the corps broke ranks, most of the students retiring to their rooms. The action was a protest against the food furnished, the cadets claiming they could not stand it longer, and was taken, they say, to bring the grievance to the attention of the proper authorities.

Rev. Dr. Kinsolving Called to Richmond.

Word was received in Brooklyn yesterday that the Rev. Dr. Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of Christ Church in that city, and formerly rector of a church in Baltimore, has been in invited to the rectorate of the historic St. Paul's Church, Richmond. This church is situated on Capitol Square, and is regarded as the strongest and most influential church in all the south. Rev. Robert Strange, now bishop of East Carolina, was the last rector of the church. It is also historic from the fact that here Gen. Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis had their membership and worshiped during the time of the Confederacy.

Dr. Kinsolving said yesterday that he had received the call, officially, since his recent return from his trip with the Ogden party. The invitation came to him informally while he was at Columbia, he said, and it was a complete surprise. Of course, it was a matter which deserved and should receive earnest consideration, as it was a flattering call in the extreme. He had not, he said, come to any decision with regard to it, and he would not announce it for some time.

It is known that great pressure will be brought to bear to keep Dr. Kinsolving in Brooklyn, where he has done a great work in increasing the finances and membership, in clearing off the debt building a new parish house and securing the money to pay for it, and other good work which has made the parish the strongest now of any time in its history.

Diamonds.

Previous to the discovery of the Brazilian mines in 1727 diamonds were found chiefly in India and Borneo. The most valuable Brazilian diamond was the Southern Star, found in 1854, which weighed 254 carats in the rough and 124 carats after cutting. The South African diamonds do not equal the Brazilian for purity on the average. Other countries where diamonds are known are the United States, British Guiana, Russia, China, Sumatra and Australia. In the United States the stones are found only occasionally in alluvial material and drift. The great lakes region is one of the districts in which they are found.

Owing to the peculiar circular or oval form of the deposits in which diamonds are discovered in South Africa it is considered that these deposits mark the vents or pipes of ancient volcanoes, and it is therefore considered that the presence of diamonds is connected with volcanic activity, the stones either having been brought up from the interior of the earth or having been formed where found under the influence of molten rock in connection with carbonaceous shale.

Monkeys at Play.

"Nothing is more instructive," said the zoo keeper to a Baltimore Herald reporter, "than to watch young monkeys at play. These interesting creatures investigate everything with insatiable curiosity. They do things startling enough to convince me that they have almost human minds.

"I had in India a young monkey that learned to put the key in the lock and unlock the chain that fastened it to a pole. Near this monkey there always lay a brush with a handle that unscrewed. In time the monkey learned to unscrew the handle and then to screw it in again.

"A friend of mine had a monkey that he kept chained just out of reach of the hearth fire. This monkey learned to tear strips from newspapers, roll them into long tapers and light them in the flames."

A Colossal Idol.

Two miles from Kamakura and about twenty from Yokohama, in Japan, on a terrace near the temple sits the most gigantic idol in the world. It is the brazen image of a deity and dates from the reign of the Emperor Shomu, who died A. D. 748. The dimensions of this idol are colossal. His height from the base of the lotus flower upon which he sits to the top of his head is sixty-three and a half feet. The face is sixteen feet in length and nine and a half feet wide, the eyes are three feet nine inches from corner to corner, the eyebrows five and a half feet and the ears eight and a half feet. The chest is twenty feet in depth, and the middle finger is exactly five feet long. The fifty-six leaves of the lotus throne are each ten feet long and six feet wide.

Burning of the Vanities.

Savanarola once marked his strong condemnation of luxury by collecting a large number of articles which he regarded as vanities during the carnival to be burnt in the Piazza della Signoria, Florence, on Shrove Tuesday, 1497. In this "burning of the vanities" were included fancy costumes, carnival masks, false hair and rouge pots, cards and dice boxes, books and pictures, together with casts and valuable sculptures of questionable character. Built up into a pyramid of seven stages—signifying the seven deadly sins—the pile was burnt by lighting fagots placed in the center, while children standing round sang hymns before the assembled crowds.

Prizes for Puzzle Solvers.

The greatest prize scheme for puzzle solvers ever offered by a newspaper is that inaugurated recently by the Sunday North American of Philadelphia; by which all get prizes.

In brief, the plan is as follows:

You answer Polly Evans' puzzle correctly. You may send your answer on as many coupons cut from the puzzle page as you please. Polly Evans rewards you with a PRIZE CREDIT for EVERY COUPON you send. If you send five correct coupons to one puzzle, you get FIVE PRIZE CREDITS. If you send one, you get one credit.

IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR PRIZE CREDITS, you get your choice of HUNDREDS OF FINE PRIZES described in the illustrated Prize Circular which Polly Evans sends by mail at the end of each month to every prize-credit winner.

Besides rewarding you with Prize Credits, which are exchangeable for prizes, Polly Evans also awards to the 300 or 400 FINEST APPEARING coupons SPECIAL PRIZES AND SURPRISES, which are announced with each weekly puzzle.

And in order to encourage you to earn as many prize credits as you possibly can Polly Evans offers every month HANDSOME GRAND SPECIAL PRIZES to the two boys and two girls who win the highest and next highest number of prize credits respectively during the month.

AUCTION SALES.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, Virginia, rendered on the 7th day of November, 1904, in the chancery cause of Solomon Myers and Isodore Myers, executors of Lewis Myers, deceased, vs. Max Lansburgh and others, the undersigned special commissioners of sale, will on the 5th day of June, 1905,

at 12 o'clock m., at the front door of the Court House of Prince William county, Manassas, Va., sell at public auction all the right, title, interest and estate of the defendant, Max Lansburgh, in and to ALL THAT TRACT OF LAND situated in the county of Prince William, State of Virginia, described as containing 4,264 acres, more or less, and bounded on the east by the Potomac river, on the north by Quantico creek, on the south by Chappawamsick creek and on the west by the telegraph road, together with all rights and appurtences thereto belonging or in any wise appertaining; or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of the said decree in favor of the plaintiffs against the said Max Lansburgh, to-wit, the sum of $2,741.77, with interest on $2,473 66, part thereof from March 6, 1900, and on $268.11, the residue thereof from October 4, 1901, until paid, and the costs of this suit and of sale. The sale is made subject to the rights of W. A. Wimsatt under the agreements made with him by the defendant, Max Lansburgh, bearing date February 9, 1904, and March 4, 1904, respectively, and the deed made in pursuance thereof, recorded among the land records of Prince William county, in Liber 52, page 328, and subject also to the contigent dower right of the wife of the said Max Lansburgh in the equity of redemption in said property.

Terms of Sale—One-third of the purchase money in cash on the day of sale and the residue in two equal installments at six and twelve months from the day of sale, the deferred installments to bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale until paid, and to be evidenced by the notes or bonds of the purchaser or purchasers with approved personal security and the title to be retained until the full payment of the purchase money. The purchaser or purchasers may at their option pay all in cash. All conveyancing to be at the cost of the purchaser or purchasers.

Eccentric Wagon Wheel.

A very interesting paradox is the one concerning an ordinary wagon wheel, which is solid and rigid, yet when fastened on its axle on a wagon when the wagon moves part of the circumference of the wheel which is in contact with the ground is for an instant at absolute rest, while the point directly perpendicular to it is flying along at a high rate of speed. The two points horizontal with the center of the wheel are traveling pretty fast, but only half as fast as the topmost point, and as the up going horizontal point increases in speed the down going one slows up until it is at rest for a moment when in contact with the ground. Yet the wheel is one solid piece and there are only two points going at the same rate of speed at the same time. Yet if the wheel is taken off the axle and rolled down an incline every point of the circumference moves at the same rate of speed.

Ireland's Sacred Oak.

In years gone by Ireland had a sacred oak dedicated to St. Columban, one of the peculiarities of the tree being that whoever carried a small bit of the wood or bark in his mouth would never meet with a violent death, it being especially efficacious in saving Christian martyrs from the block. It was known throughout the British isles as the holy oak of Kenmare. After the lapse of many centuries this sacred oak was uprooted by a storm, after which it was said to be guarded by angels to keep heretics from gathering the wood for fuel. At last a wicked tanner "barked" one of its largest limbs and tanned some leather, which he made into shoes for himself, imagining that such relics would bring him wealth and power. He wore them but once, however, but that one time was enough to make him an incurable leper.

British Museum Dome.

The reading room of the British museum is crowned by a spacious dome, which is about thirty feet wider than that of St. Paul's cathedral. It is 140 feet in diameter and, with its 60,000 superficial feet of glass, springs more than 100 feet in height. Neither St. Peter's at Rome nor Santa Maria at Florence is a match to it. It is larger by forty-five feet than the dome of the capitol at Washington, by thirty-five feet than that of Darmstadt cathedral, by thirty-three feet than that of St. Sophia, Constantinople, and spreads sixteen further than the concave roof of the tomb of Mohammed Adil Shah at Bijapur.

The Man Who Is In Earnest.

The vital necessity for the qualities of inspiration, reality and magnetism was brought home to me when I was a schoolboy fiddling at college functions. I saw speakers who came forward and who—well, just spoke so many words. Then would come an orator, a man who acted the part, who lived the part, who was the part because he believed it, and so swept the people off their feet.—J. P. Sousa in London Interview.

One Occupation Less.

A visitor at a small resort on the coast, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, asked one of the men whom he saw at the village store what he did all summer.

"Loaf and fish," replied the native.

"What do you do in the winter?" continued the inquiring visitor.

"We don't fish!"

His Prescription Failed.

Doctor (after the diagnosis)—Apparently your system is run down from nervousness superinduced by loss of sleep. My advice would be for you to try sleeping on your left side awhile. Fair Patient—But, doctor, I am slightly deaf in my right ear—and my husband talks in his sleep.—New York Times.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following recently appeared in the Aitcheson (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well-known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick streets.

"I Thank The Lord!"

cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for 5 years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; 25c.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cure of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by Gibson & Timman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

There Is a Difference.

The difference between Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and all other Cough Syrup is that it moves the bowels, thus expelling a cold from the system. This relaxes the nervetissues and by its healing effect on the throat and lungs the cough is relieved—cured entirely. Kennedy's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar and contains no opiates. Good alike for young or old. Tastes good. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick street.

AUCTION SALES.

By R. F. Knox, Auctioneer.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, Va., rendered on the 31st day of January, 1901, in the chancery cause therein pending between William T. Emerson and wife, complainants, and Isabel O. Price and others, defendants, the undersigned Special Commissioner of Sale will sell at public auction at 12 o'clock, m., on the 13th day of May, 1905, in front of the Royal street entrance to the Market Building, in the city of Alexandria, Virginia, the following real estate belonging to the estate of the late John P. Emerson, to-wit: ALL THAT LOT OF GROUND WITH THE BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated on the west side of Payne street and south side of Duke street, and fronting on Duke street 185 feet 11½ inches, more or less, and on Payne street 250 feet 2 inches, more or less. The above property will be offered first as a whole, and if no satisfactory bid is received for the same as a whole, it will then be offered in parcels as follows, namely:

1, THE LOT OF GROUND with the cottage and other improvements thereon situated at the intersection of the south side of Duke street with the west side of Payne street, fronting on Duke street 100 feet, and running southwardly in depth and fronting on Payne street 150 feet.

2, FOUR BUILDING LOTS on the west side of Payne street, commencing 150 feet south of Duke street, each fronting on Payne street 25 feet ½ inch, and each running westwardly in depth 185 feet 11½ inches, more or less.

3, FOUR BUILDING LOTS on the south side of Duke street, commencing 100 feet west of Duke street, one fronting on Duke street 25 feet 11½ inches, and the remaining three fronting on Duke street 20 feet each, and all running southwardly in depth 150 feet, more or less.

Terms of Sale—One-third of the purchase money in cash on the day of sale, and the residue in two equal installments at six and twelve months from the day of sale, the deferred installments to be evidenced by the notes of the purchaser or purchasers, and to bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale until paid, and the title to be retained until the full payment of the purchase money and interest. All expenses of conveyancing at the cost of the purchasers.

JAMES R. CATON,
Special Commissioner of Sale.

I hereby certify that James R. Caton, Special Commissioner of Sale, as above, has executed bond with approved security as required by the decree of sale above mentioned.
